

RENEWED CONFIDENCE IN THE FUTURE, ENTHUSIASM TO COPE WITH WHAT IS IN STORE, GAINED BY WOMEN'S FEDERATION

Inspiring Speech Delivered by Rabbi William H. Fineshriber, D. D., Philadelphia, at Fall Meeting of Bucks County Clubs, Buckingham — Mrs. Richard J. Hamilton's Address, and Lester Ensemble Numbers High-Lights

(By Staff Correspondent)

BUCKINGHAM, Oct. 29.—Renewed confidence in the future, and in their ability to cope with what that future has in store, was gained by the 275 women attending the Fall meeting of Bucks County Federation of Women's Clubs in the Grange Hall, here, yesterday.

An abundance of enthusiasm to cope with days to come was absorbed by the home-makers and business women through the inspiring message of Rabbi William H. Fineshriber, D. D., of Philadelphia, who in the afternoon told that "the depression ended two or three months ago." He likened the long siege to the gripe from which the public is still and will continue to "ache" for months and probably a few years to come, "but we are on the mend." "We're still suffering, of course, but we are much better. But it always takes a long while to get over the effects." "Let us consider how we are building for the future. We must build up a resistance against the recurrence of this 'ailment'."

"The depression was regarded by the speaker as 'unjustifiable.' "Think of a panic in which 10,000,000 were out of work for nearly two years, when the storehouses were bursting with grain. All the products of the field were to be had ridiculously cheap. There was plenty for all to eat and yet there is starvation." Regarding bank failures Dr. Fineshriber blamed such on "imperfect and inadequate supervision of banks . . . and in consequence we suffer."

"Let us determine to insure for the future. Why don't we have common sense to prepare for it. Let us not repeat the follies of the past. Learn by experience. Develop the kind of morale and character which we need. Oughtn't we to have the stamina to strengthen educational devices for our children? We ought all now to breathe more freely that the depression is over. We may suffer yet for a few months, but let us build more stably. Children who are undernourished will suffer probably for years. It is criminal to condemn one whole generation to death by our short-sightedness. We can prevent the depression's recurrence."

Then the well-known Rabbi remarked: "Much in life depends upon how you react, whether cynically or pessimistically. Face the reality that this world is a spiritual world, and that we can enjoy it. In the air of the spirit there is all the beauty, truth and loveliness you want, and all you have to do is to open your soul to it. Even if you have suffered please realize all the good things of life are yours. Why not be happy and cheerful, and radiate that cheer? Such can revolutionize this world in one generation. Let us learn to forget ourselves a little while and think of our neighbor. Read the Bible with insight, and profit thereby. It gives the life principle—beauty, happiness, truth and grace. So go forth. Ladies you have a magnificent opportunity. Band yourselves together for all good causes."

The orator also informed the gathering of women that conditions in the world are improving with each generation. "There has been a tremendous advance in thinking and actions of the people. Human behavior now cannot be compared with that 2,000 years ago. The Roman festivals of centuries ago were recalled, when the grandees and their ladies had tortuous devices to appease their appetites or amusements. The manner in which multitudes gathered to witness the torturing of Christians and other prisoners was referred to. "Could such happen today. Not the slightest suspicion of such would be tolerated in any civilized community. Things have indeed changed." Then the recent tortures alleged to have been perpetrated in a Florida prison camp were mentioned. "Every person who read of such felt their ire rise, everyone was indignant who heard of the cases."

In regards to abolition of war Dr. Fineshriber told the women that if they had had their way there would have been no World War. "The highest kind of patriotism is to renounce war. . . . War has no basis or reason for being except as it is fomented by individuals for selfish reasons. Injustice abounds in the world because of selfishness. All this when God and nature have wrought so many miracles by which people could live in happiness! The world at large has learned the need of international co-operation. Everyone of you is more internationally-minded than you were 10 or 15 years ago. We are learning the need of co-operation. We cannot fight life's battles alone anymore, and so we must depend upon each other. We have grown more in the last 50 years than in the last 500. I speak of tolerance. We are learning to 'slough off' prejudice and hatreds. Oh, there are plenty yet, but we are growing." Petty criticisms among people and nations as a whole were spoken of as great drawbacks to advancement and prosperity. Then Dr. Fineshriber added "I don't think much of that man or woman who is content to die without making some little contribution to the improvement of mankind."

The day with its two sessions was filled with instructive, inspiring and pleasure-giving numbers. One of the highlights of the morning program was a message by Mrs. Richard J. Hamilton, president of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Hamilton asked the women to honor the past presidents, "those who helped to keep the torch burning." "I hope your past presidents will never take a 'back seat.' Find a niche where you can continue to help to carry on."

The club members were told that "We want to sing at this time as never before. There are so many sad hearts. So let us sing." The women were advised to teach their children how to save, to earn, to give and to spend. The speaker told of her trip to Seattle, Washington, where she attended sessions of the General Federation Convention, describing a stop at an Indian reservation and of their unusual reception there. Regarding enthusiasm she said: "The only way you can interest new members is if you have faith in the club yourself."

Mrs. Jesse Harper, Yardley, made the invocation at the morning meeting, the welcome being extended by Mrs. Walter Wiley, president of the Buckingham Women's Club, the hostess organization. Mrs. Arthur Hager, president of the county federation, responded.

Numbers were given during the morning by the choral society of the Perkins Women's Club. These were "The Pirate's Dream," "A Brown Bird Singing," and "Thanks Be To God." High-lights of the state federation convention were remarked upon by the presiding officer, Mrs. Hager.

During the business session changes in the group of committee chairmen were announced as follows: Mrs. Paul Bennet, Langhorne, was named as vice-chairman of the home section; Mrs. Dekatel, of Chalfont, succeeds Mrs. Warder Lewis, as chairman of music; Mrs. Howard Clymer, Doylestown, was named to fill the vacancy of chairmanship of conservation and nature study created by the death of Mrs. G. E. Tobin. Mrs. Evan Roberts, Makefield, vice-chairman of club institute, and Mrs. Lynn J. Harrington, Langhorne, chairman of the same, exchanged places. Appointment of a motion picture chairman was announced, Mrs. Harry Williams, of Langhorne, being named to that office.

A budget was adopted for the county resources, the budget being submitted by Mrs. Frank Lehman, of Bristol, said budget being subject to a committee appointed by the Federation president. Reports were given upon many phases of activity throughout the county. Mrs. Alfred A. Danser, of Bristol, reported upon the Katherine G. Ryan scholarship which it was decided to have benefit a college junior or senior has not been subscribed to as yet. It was stated that this probably will be requested by such a student for the second semester.

In a list of meetings announced for the next few weeks were included: annual luncheon and meeting of Past Presidents Association of Bucks County.

NEWTOWN TO OPEN HOME AND FARM SHOW

Third Annual Exhibit Starts
Next Monday
Evening

EXPECT LARGE CROWD

NEWTOWN, Oct. 29.—Third annual Home and Farm show opens here Monday night in the former Janney building, Center avenue. It will continue each night during the week with varied attractions each night.

Space allotted to the farm exhibit is much increased and according to Mr. Porter, chairman of the exhibit committee, these features will this year be larger and more important ones.

It was planned to show moving pictures of the State Farm Show at Harrisburg, last January, each evening. But because of the great demand for these films, the committee can only get them for Monday and Tuesday nights, when they will be shown in the farm exhibit portion at 9 o'clock.

Wednesday night following a joint meeting of the Newtown, Bristol and Frankford Exchange Clubs, the members of these clubs will visit the show. A modern public address system has been installed to carry the music, singing and other entertainment to every one in the building. Awards made during each evening to those in attendance will also be announced over this system.

A departure this year from former practice will be a booth for the sale of soft drinks and ice cream. Two booths will be used, one donated by Stacy B. Brown and the other by the Newtown Exchange Club. Exchange Club members and their wives will conduct the booth. The entire proceeds will go to the Newtown Community Nurse Fund.

Fifteen merchants will exhibit the latest products in their lines. Nothing will be sold but the merchandise or services will be explained to those interested.

The building is well equipped with lights, heat, and a new concrete floor has been laid.

Farmers from the surrounding community are invited to bring in any of their products for exhibition. Ribbons will be awarded in the following classes, with special ribbons for any extraordinary produce:

Apples—exhibit of 5 apples—to be judged for uniformity, size, color and perfection.

Corn—exhibit of 5 ears—to be judged for size, uniformity and perfection.

Wheat—exhibit of 1 quart—to be judged for size of grain, perfection and purity.

Oats—exhibit of 1 quart—to be judged for weight, color and cleanliness.

Rye—exhibit of 1 quart—to be judged for size of grain, perfection and purity.

Potatoes—exhibit of 5 potatoes—to be judged for uniformity, perfection and quality.

Squash—exhibit of 1—to be judged for size and color, as to variety.

Pumpkins—same as for squash.

Cabbage—exhibit of 1—to be judged for size, perfection and solidity, as to variety.

Eggs—exhibit of 5—to be judged for color, weight, uniformity and perfection.

It is requested that produce to be exhibited be delivered to the Janney Building by this afternoon, where the committee in charge of the Farm Show will be ready to receive them.

Elwood Bilger asks that members of Bristol High School Alumni football squad be at Sullivan's field tomorrow at 12 noon, to hold practice for the game with the High School team.

Dentist Reports Theft of Teeth and Supplies

If you see an individual walking around town with more than his allotted number of teeth, call the police. Some fellow certainly must have a mouth full.

Dr. Max R. Seigel, 244 Mill street, reported to the police last night that during dinner hour from 5 to 6 o'clock his dental cabinet was robbed of bridges, porcelain veneer, crowns, and porcelain bridges and old gold valued at approximately $80.

Dr. Seigel told the police that his dental cabinet was robbed of 13 bridges, one lower bridge, one porcelain veneer, one crown veneer, one porcelain bridge, 50 stock crowns and a quantity of old gold.

The articles were locked in the dental cabinet in Dr. Seigel's office, the door of which was open. The key to the dental cabinet was hidden elsewhere in the office and was found in place and the door of the cabinet locked, when the theft was discovered.

SETTLE IN FAVOR OF THE OPERATORS OF GREEN-HOUSE

Katherine and Hillborn Darlington, Doylestown, Gain Case

IN SECOND SUIT

Against Philadelphia Electric Company for Damages to Plants

DOYLESTOWN, Oct. 29.—Settlement was reached for a substantial amount in favor of Katherine Darlington and Hillborn Darlington, operators of the Darlington greenhouses, Doylestown, in their second suit for damages against the Philadelphia Suburban Counties Gas and Electric Company. It was announced in civil court.

The case has been scheduled for trial starting Monday before President Judge Hiram H. Keller. Suit was brought by the plaintiff company as a result of damages alleged to have been suffered from gas which the plaintiff alleged escaped from the defendant company's mains several years ago.

"The case has been settled and a substantial verdict was awarded the plaintiff, but I am not in a position to state the amount," Thomas Ross, plaintiff counsel announced.

By agreement of counsel, a juror was withdrawn and the case of Irwin H. English, of Philadelphia, against Charles L. Ogborn and Anna C. Ogborn, of Holicon, was continued for the term. The plaintiff brought suit to recover an alleged balance due on a plumbing and heating contract.

A verdict was taken before Judge Calvin S. Boyer for the amount of the goods mentioned in the statement of claim in the case of Mavis Coudies, Inc., a corporation, against Alvin Albrecht.

A verdict for $509.96 was rendered in favor of the plaintiff in the case of John Zukow, of Bedminster township, against R. R. Blackman, of Philadelphia. Zukow brought suit for damages as a result of the loss of a horse, and injury of another and the destruction of a hay wagon in an accident at Ottsville a year ago yesterday, when the wagon was struck by a truck operated by an employee of the defendant. The case was tried before Judge Keller.

Settlement was reached in the case of Lizzie L. Hartman against R. Jeanine Deaver and the Huntingdon Valley Building and Loan Association.

A verdict for $254.40 was returned in favor of the plaintiff in the case of Lewis Keiter, of South Langhorne, against Milton P. Miller, of the same borough. The plaintiff sued to recover a board bill. The case was tried before Judge Boyer.

The case of Roscoe Barndt against Charles K. Barndt was continued for the term by agreement of counsel.

The last case for trial at the present term of civil court was stated before Judge Keller in which Wayne L. Buffenmyer, of Sellersville, is the plaintiff and Edward Freed, of the same borough, is the defendant. Buffenmyer is suing for damage to his automobile on Dec. 26, 1931, while it was parked in front of a Sellersville hair dressing establishment.

Lion Act Scheduled For Grand Tonight Attracts

Lorraine Wallace's trained lion act, one of the most sensational acts that has appeared in Bristol, will be at the Grand Theatre this afternoon and tonight. This group of big lions, the smallest of which weighs over 600 pounds, has appeared in all the large circuses, and for six weeks this summer at the famous Luna Park, Coney Island. Included in the group is Tarzan, the famous Fox movie lion, Leo, and Lindy, a son of the M-G-M lion, Leo.

This is an act that is worthy of the very best appreciation from anyone. The performance of these lions under the masterful training and eye of Miss Wallace is almost beyond belief. She seems to hold them in the hollow of her hand with the power that she shows over them. It is surely a fitting stage attraction for the feature picture of "Wild Girl," from the story of Salomey Jane's Kiss by Bert Harle.

There will also be the ever-popular song reel, and new events of the day. A capacity house will be at the Grand for all performances. It is expected, as the mere announcement by Manager Lynn that he has secured this lion act is being received with great interest everywhere.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

(By "The Stroller")

A strange man was locked in the cellar of a home by a Hulmeville housewife a few days ago.

But listen to how it came about:

The housewife in question, hearing someone in the basement, went to the cellar-door and called: "Who's there?"

Silence!

"Well, stay down there then," she muttered to herself as she concluded her husband was the one she heard and that he didn't answer in order to carry out some kidding. And so she locked the door.

The housework was continued and the one in the cellar forgotten. A few minutes later a gentle knock came at the cellar-door. The home-maker went to turn the key, prepared to tell her fond hubby a thing or two, when to her surprise the "gasman" emerged. He had entered the house unseen, and gone to the "lower regions" to read the meter.

ST. ANN'S TO FACE ANOTHER STIFF TEAM

St. Ann's A. A. will face another stiff foe tomorrow when the eleven line up with the Southwestern A. C. which is the former Ivy A. C. The games will be played on Sullivan's field.

The Ivy club needs no introduction to the local fans, for years having played the Bristol A. A. and St. Ann's teams. Every time the Ivy team came here, a good hard battle was fought.

This year will be no exception. The team has gathered several new players and are calling themselves the Southwestern A. C. and most of their players hail from West Philadelphia High School.

The "Saints" broke into the win column last Sunday when they beat the Milo club, 6-0. Previous to this they had lost three straight although they outplayed the opposing club in all games.

This will be the last home game for quite awhile for the St. Ann's team for next Sunday the eleven goes to Mount Holly and the following Sunday will see the team in action at Doylestown with the Doylestown Blue Sox. On Sunday, November 20, Manager Juno has arranged for the Burlington A. A. team to play on Sullivan's field.

"Rip" Pico, coach of the resident squad, ordered practice three times this week and drilled the boys on several new touchdown plays. Last Sunday the "Saints" gained enough yardage to score at least five touchdowns but only could push across one.

"Monk" Oriola and "Tink" Spadacino, injured linemen, will again return to play and will strengthen the line. Juno and Tosti are still on the injured list and probably will miss action this week.

The St. Ann's starting line-up will be: Oriola, center; J. Spadacino and A. Nicols, guards; F. Seneca and Lasprella, tackles; Gilardi and Tulio, ends; Pico, quarterback; E. Spadacino and Quici, halfbacks; and S. Seneca, fullback.

A large crowd is expected to be on hand at the kick-off, 2:30 o'clock.

CROYDON ELEVEN READY FOR SAILORS

After a week of rest and informative practice the Croydon gridiron eleven is set to meet the sailors from the U. S. S. Indianapolis training ship, which was launched at the Philadelphia Navy Yard this week. The game will take place at Eddington field tomorrow afternoon at 2:30.

The tilt promises to be one of the hardest this season since the sea dogs are reputed to pack a wallop that has spelled defeat for many strong teams so far this season. It will be doubly hard for the sailors have vowed to bring Croydon down off their undefeated perch.

However, the local boys seem to maintain an easy confidence since they have been assured that Stet Cressley, star fullback, will be permitted to return to the game after being idle with an injury. Cressley, coupled up with the new star, Paul Dean, is expected to produce much in the way of thrills.

Several other players will return to the lineup after indisposition. LaPolla, who was ill last week, will be seen at the old tackle post, while "Legs" Robinson, who was injured last week, has recovered enough to return to action.

Croydon will need all of its manpower to buck the 195-pound line of the visiting seamen, but Coach Abe Stiles says his team is ready for anything. A number of new plays will be executed this week and may produce results.

Will Croydon continue the pace and remain undefeated?

HARRIMAN QUINTET PLANS ACTIVE SEASON

The Harriman F. C. basketball team, under the watchful eye of Joe McDevitt who will be in charge of the quintet this season, is making rapid progress in its practice for the coming season.

Local fans will see one of the fastest Class B teams in Lower Bucks County when the Sixth Ward team is on the court. The squad is composed of the entire varsity of last year with the addition of two new stars: Richard and Bickford. Both are former members of the Easton High School team.

Manager McDevitt is looking forward to a hard schedule, having successfully arranged games with Immaculate Conception Junior Varsity, Trenton Y. M. A. and several other Jersey teams.

A few more dates remain open on the tentative schedule and the club would like to hear from some of the home talent. For games write to Joe McDevitt, 1510 Wilson avenue.

Christian Endeavor Affair Attracts Ninety People

A Halloween party was held in the basement of Bristol Presbyterian Church, by Christian Endeavor Society of the Sunday School. There were 90 present. Many were in costume and a grand march was held at which time the judges selected the prize winners. The prize for fancy dress was awarded to Eleanor Black; comic dress, Ernest Grazi; and the most original to Charles Sheffey. After the unmasking, Halloween games were played. Miss Helen Hutzler was in charge of the games, and Fred Herman, Jr., was head of the refreshment committee.

The basement of the church was trimmed with Halloween decorations. The party was chaperoned by the Sunday School teachers, Dr. John J. Hargrave, superintendent, and Rev. S. B. Knowlton.

Kindergarten Tots Have Jolly Time at Party

Miss Adelia Wright, Wood and Mulberry streets, gave members of her kindergarten a Halloween party yesterday morning. The class room was decorated in black and orange.

Following the unmasking, Miss Wright snapped a picture of the group. Games were played and prizes given to Myron O'Reilly and Benadine Gunning for pinning the nose on the pumpkin. Each child received a noisemaker and an orange and black paper basket filled with candy. Refreshments of ice-cream served in baskets made from oranges, and fancy cakes were enjoyed.

Can Tony Flag the Express?

By HARDIN BURNLEY

TONY CANZONERI
SAYS HE WILL
HAND BILLY PETROLLE
A DOSE OF THE SAME
MEDICINE THAT HE GAVE
BILL'S BROTHER FRANKIE --
BUT BILLY IS OUT TO AVENGE HIS BROTHER'S
KAYO DEFEAT!

THAT long-awaited clash between Tony Canzoneri and Billy Petrolle, which is scheduled to take place in New York City shortly, is attracting more attention than any lightweight championship contest has commanded since the palmy days of Leonard. The fans' appetite has been whetted by Canzoneri's brilliant showings in recent bouts, the lightweight ruler having kayoed Lew Kirsch, promising New York lightweight, and Frankie Petrolle, brother of Billy, in his two last fights.

The fact that Tony has already thumped out the junior member of the fighting Petrolle family adds interest to the forthcoming battle with Big Brother Willie Petrolle. The old Fargo Express vows that he will avenge that blot on the Petrolle family's fistic escutcheon by smacking the lightweight crown right off

Mr. Canzoneri's noble dome. This feat, however, is much easier said than done.

To many smart fistic observers, it seems that Old Willyum will have to belt out Canzoneri to win. Canzoneri is too fast a puncher to give the more deliberate Fargo man much of a chance over the fifteen-round route, say these cauliflower-wisenheimers.

Well, if it comes to that, what are the odds that Petrolle will be able to put the champion down for the long toll? If Billy can do it, he'll be the first one to turn the trick.

Man and boy, that Tony has been trading punches with the hardest hitting blokes in the leather swinging racket; and nobody can say that they ever saw him in serious danger of a kayo defeat.

On the other mitt, the Fargo Express has been completely delirious on several occasions. A couple of years ago King Tut laid Billy out cold in the very first round, and Canzoneri's idea is that what has been done before can be done again. The way he has been going of late, Tony may turn the trick, at that. The stocky little New York Italian looked as strong as two or three bulls in his last few fights, and he is punching very hard.

However, if you remind Uncle Willie Petrolle that most of the experts are picking against him in this fight, he just smiles that slow western smile of his. You see, the old guy in the Indian blanket has been on the short end of the betting before nearly all of his best fights, so that doesn't worry him the least bit. Billy never says much, he just lets his fists talk for him; and usually those fists do quite some shouting.
